Integrity – Leadership – Quality That's why Percheron is the right choice for right-of-way.

Percheron is a full service right-of-way company with pipeline, electrical and public project experience across the U.S. Our legally trained management team has over 90 years of combined right-of-way field experience, which gives you the quality you deserve on your projects. Percheron also manages your project's survey requirements with in-house RPLS resources and crews equipped with the latest technology and GPS. Imagine a single information source on your project's status, critically timed and tuned to the permitting and construction phases ensuring that everyone is on the same page. The bottom line at Percheron is that Your Priority Is Our Priority!

We also utilize Flairdocs: a state-of-the-art, web-based project tracking database with full GIS support to manage your project. By giving you real-time and up-to-date project information, Flairdocs is quickly becoming the de-facto industry standard. Flairdocs, a role-based system, captures and maintains all of your right-of-way project information. The system uses the latest workflow technology to completely manage all documents and reports, assuring you that the right parties will review, edit and approve your legal agreements.
